WOW! How are we already at the end of April and going into May? We've had a lot of families traveling out of town over the last month and have heard many wonderful experiences. We are so thankful to have everyone back in class together again playing, learning, and exploring. Over the last month, we have learned all about Spring weather, earth week, planting, and week of the young child. Our virtue this month was friendship. We learned and explored friendship by reading books, doing activities, and trying to make sure everyone was included. Over the next month, we are going to be talking about Space and learning more about our virtue: cooperation.

During the month of May, we are going to be further looking into space. We are going to learn about the various planets outside of Earth. We are excited to take a deeper dive into outer space playing games, reading books, and discussing everything we want to know about the topic. We'll be starting to talk about cooperation and getting further into it between activities and reading books with our friends and teachers.

This month we will be celebrating Hadley's birthday! We have officially wrapped up our Conferences for Spring. Thank you for taking the time to sit down and talk about each of your children. We have seen such a change in each of your children over the last six months and can't wait to continue watching them grow and learning. The construction has finally started across the street, we have been getting to learn more about all of the machines and trucks being used. The children seem to be teaching the adults just as much as the adults are teaching them about all the construction going on! But, we want to remind you to continue monitoring your children closely in the parking lot and sidewalks outside of the building. We are going to be continuously seeing construction vehicles driving around the area and want to make sure that everyone is being as safe as possible. If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to Larissa or Mariatu!

Reminders: Please be sure to take home all snow gear. We are going to ask if each of the families could start putting backpacks in the hallway on their hooks to clear up space in the cubbies (unless we have talked specifically to you about keeping your backpack in the classroom.)

Happy May! We love having you in our class!
- Larissa and Mariatu!
