Infants

Happy October! We are excited to welcome the beautiful sights, sounds, and colors of fall into our classroom. Last month, we explored shapes and colors, giving our little learners opportunities to discover and experience different colors, textures, and objects through play.

This month, our classroom will be exploring Fall Harvest! We will introduce the babies to seasonal fruits and vegetables, fall colors, leaves, pumpkins, and other natural materials through age-appropriate sensory experiences and activities.
Our little ones will have opportunities to:

- Explore the colors, textures, and smells of fall fruits and vegetables.
- Discover pumpkins through sensory play and hands-on exploration.
- Look at and explore fall leaves and other natural materials.
- Practice noticing and identifying fall colors.
- Enjoy fall-themed songs, stories, and fingerplays.
- Strengthen fine-motor skills through sensory and art activities.
- Explore their environment using their senses through safe, supervised activities.

For infants, learning happens through touching, looking, listening, moving, and exploring. Our fall activities will be simple and hands-on, allowing each child to participate at their own developmental level. We will focus on creating opportunities for curiosity, discovery, and lots of smiles!
